

List of Approved Bright Futures Community Service Sites

Please note that the following list is not exclusive. There are sites not listed that may count for Bright Futures hours; however, the main criteria for approval are found in the Bright Futures Community Service Guidelines packet. The organization or event must also be open to the public, addressing a social issue, and community focused. If these criteria are met, the student must ask the School Counselor for approval via the Proposal form found in the aforementioned packet.

The Bright Futures Community Service Guidelines packet may be found at <http://bdchs.org/wp-content/uploads/2013/10/BF-Community-Service-Guidelines-Packet-2013-2014.pdf>

Agency Description Inaugurated in 1992, the MOSI YES! (Youth Enriched by Science) Team is an intensive multi-year program that offers volunteer opportunities to underserved minority youth. Museum staff (part-time, full-time, and adult volunteers) serve as mentors to train YES! Team members in museum operations, science demonstrations, and public speaking. The program provides opportunities for students to become responsible, productive adults by helping them develop self-confidence, improve their communication skills, and form good work habits. During the school year, the YES! Team serves as program demonstrators in the museum galleries and as hosts to birthday parties or classroom assistants. Students have the opportunity to use museum resources, such as its science library, to complete homework, conduct research, and to update demonstration information. The YES! Team received the "Volunteer of the Year" award in 1997.
